11th SCIENTIFIC FORUM

Taking place at Online, MS. Teams
26th November 2026 (Friday) 3PM

Dear Doctoral Students and Doctoral Candidates,

The Faculty of Health Sciences and the Doctoral School of Health Sciences of the University of Pécs along with the Working Committee of Health Sciences of the Regional Committee of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences tributes to the Hungarian Science Day with a conference called '11th SCIENTIFIC FORUM – *Health Science – a compass for a liveable future'.

In accordance with the decision of a Hungarian Academy of Sciences, in 2021 the highlighted topic of the Hungarian Science Day is the Health Science – a compass for a liveable future. The committee, who prepared the Forum's programme strive to draw attention about that we can only understand and influence different processes in our close environment with knowledge on scientific facts and contexts. Furthermore, the Forum draws attention to the importance of comprehensible and experience-based knowledge transfer in reducing false news and wants to motivate young generations/researchers to create original ideas.

Our Doctoral School intended aim agrees with the motto of the Hungarian Science Day, and in concord with the title 'Health Science – a compass for a liveable future' we give the pre-doctoral and doctoral students as well as the doctoral candidates / post doctors the opportunity to present their research related to Health Sciences and to its' interdisciplinary areas regarding to:

- Frontiers of Health Science
- Cardiovascular Health Science
- Locomotor Health Science
- Perinatal Health Science
- Reproduction Health Science
- Oncology Health Science
- Sport and Health Science
- Food Science, Nutrition Science, Dietetics and Hydration

The aim of the Forum is to introduce the Doctoral School and the Working Committee to the students of the Faculty to introduce talented students to promote research career to disseminate the scientific results of the Doctoral School to present the progress of doctoral students and to summarize and discuss the results of doctoral candidates and post doctors.

After the review of the editorial board, the performers will achieve the opportunity to submit their presentations in the scientific journal of the Faculty of Health Sciences, called Health – Academy (ISSN 2063-8140).

The doctoral candidates and doctoral students can apply by sending their abstract, which cannot be longer than 300 words to the doktoriiskola@etk.pte.hu e-mail address until 12 Nov 2021. The length of presentation with the debate is maximum 10 minutes.

Please indicate your intention of participation until 19 Nov 2021 by contacting Doctoral School via e-mail: doktoriiskola@etk.pte.hu.

The participation in the event is free of charge.
